

DADSWA

SUPPORTING DADS

Delivering services and supporting fathers, focussing on the child's first five years.

DadsWA emphasises the importance of father involvement and the benefits this brings for child development.

Providing a variety of services, workshops and playgroups for dads, as well as parenting information to both dads and mums, DadsWA also regularly attend Ngala's workshops and programs to talk about the important role fathers play.

DadsWA also provides professional development and tailor-made workshops at hospitals and at organisations.

Each year DadsWA provides support to more than 500 fathers (and mothers) and provides professional education to over 150 practitioners, gaining a wealth of knowledge on the current state of fathers and family services in our community.
